

ABOUT DENISE, PUBLIC SPEAKING EXPERT

Denise equips leaders and teams to make a positive impact in both their organizations and the world by becoming a confident speaker on any platform.

In 2007, Denise was a corporate wallflower. She knew she was smart and competent but lacked all confidence in front of an audience.

After a dismal sales quarter, her company went through a corporate reshuffle. By chance, Denise was nominated to represent her department. She fronted up to the new interdepartmental meeting and during question time, she presented an idea to the directors. Fortunately, they went with it. It turned out that idea saved the company from insolvency. And Denise... she had discovered the power of public speech! She started learning everything she could about public speaking.

By 2015, Denise was a semi-finalist in the World Championship of Public Speaking, a competition of over 35,000 speakers. She had also transformed into a sought after professional coach and trainer for Fortune 500 companies and tech start ups.

She believes "When we share our expertise and experience, we can change lives."

Her most powerful client feedback: "You saved my life."
